CODE OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT (Applicable to all registered persons)

In terms of Section 23(d) of the Engineering Profession Act (Act 18 of 1986)

A professional engineer or an engineer-in-training, an incorporated engineer or an incorporated engineer-in-training and an engineering technician or engineering technician-in-training shall, in practicing his/her profession, comply with the following code of conduct:

1. Have due regard to public safety and interests.
2. Shall discharge his/her duties to his/her employer or client in an efficient and competent manner with complete fidelity and honesty.
3. Shall disclose to his/her employer or client, in writing, any substantial interest he/she may have in any company, firm or person carrying on any contracting or consulting work or manufacturing business which is or may be related to the work for which he/she is employed, as well as particulars of any royalty, gratuity, commission or other financial benefit accruing to him/her from any article or process used in or for the purpose of the work in respect of which he/she is employed.
4. Shall order his/her conduct so as to uphold the dignity, standing and reputation of the profession.
5. Shall not undertake engineering work of a nature that his/her education, training and experience have not rendered him/her competent to perform.
6. Shall certify to his/her employer or client, in writing, that he/she is competent to undertake and perform the particular engineering work for which he/she is to be employed or commissioned.

I have read the above and undertake to comply with any provision of the Code of Conduct.

DECLARATION: As declared and signed before a Commissioner of Oaths by the registered person when handing in their application.
